

Stamps and Craft

Cheshire's Creations

Welcome

Hello paper crafter's and thanks for taking the time to read my NEW newsletter. I have wanted to do a newsletter for a long time, but have put it off and off and now have done it! I have sent this to everyone who has made an order from my website over the past few years (come back and visit if it has been a while) and to those of you who took the time to email me to ask to be put on it. I am intending on sending this fortnightly. I may also be sending a small update newsletter with the arrival of new products and pre-orders to keep you on your toes! I am keen to hear some feedback about the format I have chosen and if you are in to social media – make sure you join my Twitter and Facebook pages as great things are going to be happening there.

With the launch of this newsletter comes another exciting announcement which is the re-design of the home page of my website. Not everything is quite ready upon sending out this newsletter, but I am working hard at getting all sections finished with at least some content in there (I find my website is a black hole of time ☺). Over the next few months there are going to be several changes to the website with major changes coming with the secure cart processing area to make it quicker when finalizing your order.

In the next few weeks is the SIA (Scrapbooking Industry Australia) trade show where most Australian manufacturers release their new collections. The hype with Australian wholesalers and manufacturers is very similar to the CHA (Craft and Hobby Association) trade show in America where the American manufacturer's release their ideas. This means that over the next few weeks there are going to be some very exciting products coming in.

Pre-Orders

All Pre-Orders can be found in Pandora's Box

Hero Arts Designs in Wood

All Designs in Wood

In The Garden

Regal Time Piece

French Writing

Flower Medley

New Releases from Pandora's Box

All New Releases can be found in Pandora's Box

Penny Black Spring 2010

All Spring 2010

Fly Away

Paisley Swirls

Irises

You Are The Best

Enjoy Life

Teddy & Company

Illumination

Bundle of Joy

Wonderful Day

Join The Party

Candid

Yearning

Poppy Poem

Bearing Gifts

Card Gallery

Scrapbook Gallery

Going, Going Gone Products

All Going, Going, Gone Products can be found on the website

Animal Prints

A Million Thanks

Bird Greetings

Birthday Cupcakes

Birds & Branches

Teacher's Corner

More Techniques can be found on the website

Scrapbooking & Cardmaking Crossovers

Quite often you will get asked "Are you a scrapbooker or cardmaker?" For most of us we have tried both types of papercrafting but usually settle on one form. Those who make cards do it for many reasons from the enjoyment of giving someone a unique card through to it being a discount method for giving greeting cards. Scrapbooking has traditionally been done to preserve memories with modern scrapbooks having a more personal element and a giving us a great way to create.

A lot of the tools you may have lying around can be used for either scrapbooking or cardmaking and scraps of paper can be used for any project. Bling, hardware, stickers, ribbons etc are very useful and can contribute towards fantastic projects.

Some of you may have come across scrapbook sketches to help you with your pages. These can be easily adapted to cards and elements can easily be removed for it to fit on the card face. If you like doing things digitally then there are a lot of ways to adapt cards to scrapbooks or vice versa.

If you have always wanted to try the other type of papercraft then all I can say is go for it and you may surprise yourself and have a lot of fun. If it is a new venture, then use skills that you have already mastered and work on developing your layers and KISS (keep it simple stupid)!

Craft Night at Jayne's

More Craft Night at Jayne's information can be found on the website

Next Crafting Night at Jayne's is on Saturday May 1 at 5:00pm. Come and join us for a great night of crafting and fun. A light supper is provided. Cost is $10pp.

Please RSVP if you are coming.

Newsletter Special

Special Offers Terms & Conditions

Spend $50 and receive a free cardmaking paper pack.

Valid until the end of May.

Follow me on Twitter

Follow me on Facebook

Sister site:

www.stampsandcraft.com

www.stampsandcraft.com.au

jayne@stampsandcraft.com.au

You are receiving this email as you have requested to be on my email newsletter list or you have made an order from my website. As I am managing my own subscriber list, to unsubscribe, simply press reply, type unsubscribe and send the email to me.